About the artist

ALISON CURRIE

Alison Currie is an Adelaide based independent choreographer and dance artist. Her work is primarily concerned with how animate and inanimate bodies connect, compare and impact one another. Her work crosses the mediums of dance, performance art, sculpture and installation and is made for theatres, galleries and public spaces.

THE HUMAN ARTS MOVEMENT

The Human Arts Movement is an award winning Adelaide-based contemporary dance training and performance collective founded in 2013. The Human Arts Movement was awarded the Graham F. Peace Foundation Award and Weekly Award for Best Dance for in[nate]ture at the Adelaide Fringe 2017.

Aldo Iacobelli: A Conversation with Jheronimus is a major exhibition of new and recent works by one of Adelaide's most internationally experienced artists, which explores humanity's ongoing struggle for moral safe-ground.
